

BIOSECURITY ALERT

The Chilo stalk borer poses a real threat to sugarcane in South Africa.

Your assistance is requested to look out for damage and larvae as illustrated below.

Shot holes on leaf

Side-shooting

Constricted internodes

Moth

Eggs

Larva

Stalk damage

If you find damage or larvae, please inform your local Extension Specialist or contact us via the Biosecurity Hotline.

Thank you for helping us to keep track of this pest.

South African Sugarcane Research Institute

Biosecurity Hotline: +27-31 508 7459

www.sugar.org.za

Oct 2011